From the imagination of Tiana Laveen comes an eye-opening, page-turning, sensually enthralling compilation of diverse love stories presented in the "Cross Climax" series. "Jock of all Trades" - Football star Steven Johnson is used to getting what he wants. Despite Steven's charm, he is unable to attract the interest of Afrocentric Dr. Sandra Bell. After a chance hook-up involving a holiday raffle, they are shoved into a date which leads to an evening of passion. This unwraps a painful past for Dr. Bell, forcing her to either confront her demons or run away into the protection of denial. Will the seemingly frigid Dr. Bell succumb? All is fair in football and X-rays. "White Hot Fire" - Set in 1956,

David Stone is a divorced fireman. He has one son he is raising solo and has hired an Art History college student, Patricia Edwards, to be his child's caretaker. Patricia is a beautiful, unconventional, young, African-American woman. David and Patricia soon realize their strong attraction for one another and seize it, but not without dire consequences in a time of racial tension and upheaval. "My One and Only" - This is the story of Nyko, an attractive, bright, but slightly jaded college student from the Midwest. She meets James Edmundson, an intelligent, mysterious, bi-racial man who could easily pass for Caucasian. He is harboring a deep secret that has been tearing his soul apart. Nyko and James have a brief, torrid love affair in which their chemistry goes above and beyond the normal connection. Can this bond be permanently broken even after excessive absence? Only time will tell. "Spanish 'Lust'abies" - Puerto Rican music producer Jaivin Cortes touches musical talent and instantly turns them into gold. He has a clear plan and direction for his life until he meets two women: Denise Miller, a caring and witty upscale Manhattan boutique owner implanted from Savannah, GA and Antidote, a sensual, mysterious seductress he cannot get off his mind. Who will Jaivin choose, or will he have his cake and eat it too? Black stockings and handcuffs are required. *Also included, a sneak peek at "Cross Climax II"!

For Alex Cross, the toughest cases hit close to home—and in this deadly thrill ride, he's trying to solve the most personal mystery of his life. When his cousin is accused of a heinous crime, Alex Cross returns to his North Carolina hometown for the first time in over three decades. As he tries to prove his cousin's innocence in a town where everyone seems to be on the take, Cross unearths a family secret that forces him to question everything he's ever known. Chasing a ghost he believed was long dead, Cross gets pulled into a case that has local cops scratching their heads and needing his help: a grisly string of socialite murders. Now he's hot on the trail of both a brutal killer, and the truth about his own past—and the answers he finds might be fatal.

This volume explores how early Christian understandings of apocalyptic writings and teachings are reflected in the theology, social practices, and institutions of the early church. It enables pastors and serious students of the Bible—particularly those interested in patristics and church history—to read the book of Revelation and related writings through ancient Christian eyes. This is the second volume in Holy Cross Studies in Patristic Theology and History, a partnership between Baker Academic and the Stephen and Catherine Pappas Patristic Institute of Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology in Brookline, Massachusetts. The series is a deliberate outreach by the Orthodox community to Protestant and Catholic seminarians, pastors, and theologians. In these multiauthor books, contributors from all traditions focus on the patristic (especially Greek patristic) heritage.

The cry of Jesus on the cross described in the gospels of Mark and Matthew was a wail of pain and abandonment. Many Christians have been scandalized by it. On one hand it is an expression of the humanity of Jesus, while at the same time it links him with his Jewish heritage and the rich imagery of the psalms. Italian theologian Gerard Rosse has examined the many meanings of Jesus' cry. He first considers the historical question - whether these were truly the words of Jesus. If we assume that they are, what do the words mean? Was it merely a cry of despair, or does it reveal something of the relationship between Jesus and the One called Abba? Theologically, what light does it cast on the inner life of the Trinity? Rosse also considers the reality of abandonment in the world today and what the outcry of Jesus reveals about our solidarity with all abandoned people.

In this New Studies in Biblical Theology exploration of Mark's Gospel, Peter G. Bolt looks at why the cross is so prominent in the narrative, asks what contribution Mark's teaching can make to our understanding of the atonement and shows how this teaching can inform, correct and enrich our own preaching of the gospel in the contemporary world.

We know that Jesus' death on the cross is a historic fact, but does it have any true meaning and value to us today? Legendary Bible teacher Derek Prince explains that the cross not only provides forgiveness from sin—it also makes everything else work in our lives. The cross continues to be the ultimate demonstration of God's love and the source of ongoing supernatural grace for us. It is also the basis of healings and miracles today and the foundation of Satan's total defeat. It is even the door to God's secret wisdom as it allows us access the mind and heart of our heavenly Father. By recognizing to the centrality of the cross, personally applying it our lives, we enter into the totality of God's power and provision for us. The cross: not just a historical event but forgiveness, victory, abundance. Today.
